CHARLEROI AND DONORA AT MONESSEN THANKSGIVING DAY

MUCH INTEREST IN TURKEY DAY GAME

Contest Between Charleroi And Donora On Which So Much Hinges, Thanksgiving Morning At 10:30 O'Clock

TO EXERCISE GREAT CARE

Overconfidence, Which Lost For Charleroi Last Year, to Be Guarded Against— Charleroi Rooters Urged to Attend— Tickets On Sale Locally

With the Monongahela City game a thing of the past, the Charleroi squad started in today to prepare for their final game of the schedule with Donora High School. The game this year, by mutual agreement, is to be played at Page Park, Monessen, Thanksgiving day at 10.30 a. m.

Charleroi came through their game with Monongahela on Friday in good shape and were not forced to extend themselves to win. The team is slowly but surely moving in the right direction and Thursday should find them in the proper mental attitude to avenge their defeat of last season. Charleroi has not forgotten that, and the veteran members of the squad are out for revenge in the form of a deconfidence lost that game las year confidence lost that gam last year to a team that was admitted to be, by impartial observers, inferior. Nothing is being overlooked by the managemnt to aid in putting this year's team in the right frame of mind. Every precaution is being taken to guard against overconfidence, and if Donora repeats this year they will have to rise to unusual heights to do it

The selection of officials is still somewhat uncertain. Superintendent Thomas Gillen 'phoned faculty manager Copeland on Thursday and presented the names of the following men which were accepted: Referee, R. M. "Buck" Baird; Umpire, Walter Gross; head linesman, W. G Evans. Whether or not he has succeeded in engaging all three is not known as yet.

Tickets will be distributed today. The Grand Pool room, Pipers' Pharmacy, Hennings' Drug Store, and John's Drug Store will handle them. The general admission charge will be 50 cents for adults. Local patrons will save themselves considerable trouble by purchasing their tickets here in Charleroi, as an immense crowd will have to be looked after at

OFFICERS ARREST A LOCAL MAN

Officers Corey and Gelder effected the arrest here at 5 o'clock this morning of Louis DeMarco and Miss Grace Wheeler of West Newton. The charge preferred against them is suspicious persons.

They will have a hearing before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing this evening at 7 o'clock.

Police Will Hold Dance December 4

Charleroi police will hold a dance in Italian hall, Eighth street and Lookout avenue, on the evening of Thursday, December 4. It is expected that [illegible] largely attended of any of the early winter dances of the season.

The purpose of the ball is to secure means for the creation of a sinking fund, which is in vogue in all towns and cities in the state of the proportions of Charleroi. At the present time police department has no fund of this kind. The money derived will be devoted in case of sickness or accidents to members and for the purposes of donation, when the police, from Chief James A. Murphy and the other officers are called upon to make donations.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the Harlem Harmony Boys orchestra.

Last Sad Rites For Mrs. Harding Are Held Today

Marion, Ohio, November 24—Scores of friends passed before the bier of Mrs. Florence Kling Harding today before the casket was closed at noon and removed to the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church for the funeral which began at 2 p. m.

In accordance with Mrs. Harding's wishes, nly the simpliest ceremony was held. One song, "The End of a Perfect Day" which was her favorite, a short sermon by Rev. Jesse Swank, and the funeral procession proceeded to Marion cemetery. Following the same route taken by the body of the late president here a year ago last August, the body was escorted to the cemetery by a troop of United States soldiers, and the military guard of 23 will then resume watch over the receiving vault pending completion of the Harding Memorial.

Secretary of War Weeks and Postmaster General New were here as representatives of President Coolidge.

9,000 Who Can't Read And Write

Nine thousand residents of Washington county are unable to read and write, said J. M. Berkey, assistant superintendent of the public schools of [illegible] night schools in that city for foreigners, in addressing the Washington County Education society at its first meeting for the school year Saturday.

Assistant Superintendent Berkey said there were 39,000 illiterates in Allegheny county. He gave a highly interesting talk, his subject being, "No illiteracy for 1930."

W. L. Hays, supervising principal of the Independence township schools, was elected vice president to succeed E. L. Sheppard, of North Charleroi, who is teaching this year near Pittsburgh.

At the morning session, Stanley A. Wengert, of Ellsworth, spoke on the subject, "Training for Citizenship," and Miss Elizabeth Gibson, art teacher in the Washington schools, spoke on "Value of Art in Our Social and Industrial Life." Both talks were well prepared and gave important facts to the members for their consideration.

The next meeting of the Washington County Education association will be held during institute week next month. Saturday's session was held as a closing event in the national observance of Education week.

ARRESTS ARE MADE FOR BOOTLEGGING

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT REMAINS UNKNOWN

The body of the victim of the automobile accident near Maple Creek [illegible] ing held at the morgue of Michael T. Crowley. Thus far efforts to identify the man have been unavailing. He will probably be buried in the course of a day or two at county expense.

Nine, Including One Woman, Taken Into Custody In Avella Raids And Four In City of Monongahela Over Weekend

ALL HELD FOR COURT

Liquor Traffic Across Monongahela-Axleton Bridge Seriously And Extensively Interrupted Saturday Morning By Minions of the Law

Numerous arrests of alleged bootleggers occurred in Washington county over the week end, nine being taken into custody in raids at Avella and four at Monongahela. All were held for court when arraigned for hearings.

Those arrested at Avella were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Halini, old offenders, and Charles Haydu, boarder at their home who has also been in trouble, Charles Zazzi, Rossy Gibiara, Archie Malkinisch, Philip Caruso, Albert Long and Steve Jackoski. The Halinis and Haydu were held under $3,000 bail when arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. W. Weigmann, and the others at $.000. Haydu and Malkinisch were unable to furnish it.

Constable Joe Neil was in charge of the raid, with County Detectives W. B. Dinsmore, B. M. Laird and D. W. Creigh; Sergeant E. T. Cohee and Private Miller, of the state constabulary; and Constables J. E. Adamson and J. E. Dowden, assisting.

Liquor traffic across the Monongahela-Axelton bridge was seriously and extensively interrupted Saturday morning by Sergeant E. T. Cohee and Private J. N. E. Miller, of the state police, assisted by County Detective Bert M. Laird. These officers "loafed" on that bridge until the "wee sma'" hours and took four liquor transporters into custody, took charge of three automobiles and confiscated 80 gallons of alcohol, one case of Overholt whisky and 20 gallons of moonshine.

The defendants are Domonick Buccardi, of Axelton, a miner aged 26 years, driving a Ford roadster, Alex Zboronilski, of Bentleyville, aged 32 years, a storekeeper, and driving a Jewett roadster; Cerman Taraborrel, of Manown, a miner, aged 29 years, driving a Ford roadster and Jain Ross, aged 26 of Manown a storekeeper, a passenger with Taraborrel.

The four men were taken to Washington an arraigned before Alderman John F. Carmichael, of Washington, and each was held under $3,000 bail for the February term of court. The cars will be held pending the outcome of the cases in court. The liquor, other than samples to prove its alcoholic content, will be destroyed.

Captain Edwin Patton New Post Commander Local A. L. Post No. 22

Captain Edwin Patton was elected to head Charleroi Post No. 22, American Legion, as Post Commander at a recent meeting held in the Dugout. Those who were elected to assist him were as follows:

First vice commander, Charles Fiedler; second vice commander, Michael Lombardo; adjutant, Roland Thomas; finance officer, Bannister Roberts; chaplain, John Clutter; legal aid officer, Roy I. Carson; service officer, D. M. McCloskey; post historian, Lemuel Long; sergeant-at-arms, Nicholas LaCoco; and employment officer Guy Woodward. Additional members of the executive committee will be elected at the next meeting.

The local post feels justly proud of its choice of capable men who have been placed to conduct the affairs of the Post, all of whom have worked faithfully during their membership on various committees. It may be safe that the work of the Post will be carried on efficiently and well. These officers will be installed at the first meeting in January, at which time Commander Paul Trnavsky and his fellow officers will retire from office.

Everything is in readiness for the Post dance to be given Wednesday evening at the Italian hall. It is expected that the Post will be favored with as large a crowd as ever turned out for other affairs. With splendid music the chief attraction, the affair promises to be a huge success. One dollar will be assessed the men, and fifty cents for women.

DR. GRANT, THE LIBERAL DIVINE, IS IN POOR HEALTH

New York, November 24. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, noted Liberal preacher, is in New York hospital suffering from a nervous disorder and a consultation will be held in his case today.

The former rector of the Church of the Ascension on Fifth avenue, whose disputes with Bishop Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York attracted nation-wide attention, was admitted to the hospital late Sunday suffering from a general breakdown and was highly nervous.

Dr. Grant resigned his pastorate last June because of ill health and had been living quietly on his farm at Bedford village. At that time he ascribed his trouble to bad sewerage in the rectory. He was described as anaemic and run odwn.

The preacher also was said to have been dejected because Bishop Manning refuse to consent to his marriage to Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig, a divorcee, on the ground of church law.

DR. CRAWFORD TALKS OF CHINA

Yesterday was Foreign Mission day in the Presbytery of Pittsburgh. The congregation of the Washington Avenue church had the pleasure of listening to a most interesting address by the Rev. Dr. O. C. Crawford of Soochow, China.

Dr. Crawford spoke of the many reforms, political, social, educational and religious, which have swept over China during the last quarter of a century. His large audience was greatly helped by the address. At the close of the service the regular Thank offering of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society was taken and it amounted to $123.11. This is the largest offering ever received on Thank Offering Sunday, which speaks well for the good women of the society.

Dr. Crawford will be with us on Wednesday evening, when he will deliver an illustrated lecture on the city of Soochow. This lecture will be given in connection with the school of missions at 8:30. The public is cordially invited.

On Friday and Saturday of this week the ladies of the Sewing Circle will hold a bazaar in the store room of W. B. Pfleghardt. The Westminster Guild will meet with Mrs. Lois Miksch on Tuesday evening.

CABINET MEETS IN THE CRISIS

London, Nov. 24.—Important troop, naval, and air force movements were under discussion by the British cabinet when it met at Number 10 Downing street, at noon today, to consider the critical situation in Egypt.

The government's plans were closely guarded, as the extent of the measures to be taken depends upon the promptitude with which the British demands are met.

Meeting Called In The Interests Of Pure Milk Supply

"Stirring up things," in the lacteal fluid way in Charleroi appears to have become contagious, inasmuch as notices have been issued by Jonas Gee, secretary of the North Charleroi Board of Health, calling a special meeting of the body, to be held in the North Charleroi Borough building on Tuesday evening, November 25 at 7.30 o'clock.

The notices also ask for and will include the presence of any and all milk dealers and owners of cows, which have not been tested within the past year.

This matter has been brought about mainly for the reason that so many milk dealers as well as customers do not appear to be familiar with the regulations governing the testing of cows, and as this is a very important proposition, and in fact is obligatory on the part of all owners of cows giving milk and the lacteal fluid being dispensed in the borough, all persons who are interested in pure milk, are invited and requested to attend this meeting tomorrow night. At this session full explanation governing the question will be explained by the board of health.

While the board of health in North Charleroi was among the first to take up the matter of testing cows as to their healthfulness where their product is being dispensed with in the borough, the meeting tomorrow night is the first public gathering where the citizenry of the town can meet, discuss and become fully informed in the important proposition. Not long since the officials of the state board of health were in North Charleroi, Charleroi, and in the surrounding towns in the interests of the inspection of cows, and the rules and regulations of the state board must be adhered to and followed or fines and costs will be exacted by the state board officials at Harrisburg. It would be to the interests of the residents of North Charleroi borough to attend this meeting.

FILTER SYSTEM ELIMINATES LOCAL RADIO TROUBLES

J. G. McKinley, of the Radio Laboratory, West Penn Power Company, Connellsville, was here last week cooperating with local radio fans and owners relative to the elimination of radio disturbances Mr. McKinley installed a high-frequency wave filter on service lines at the premises of Edward Protin, 931 Fallowfield avenue.

This was done in an attempt to eliminate propogation of high-frequency oscillations which were being transmitted back on West Penn service lines from the violet ray machine.

After the installation of this filter system, a test was made of the violet ray machine in operation, and it was found that the filter system was effective in eliminating that source of the disturbance.

Radio disturbances have been the cause of considerable annoyance, the cause being unknown for some time, until it was ascertained that it came from the violet ray machine of Mr. Protin. The elimination was only partly successful until the advent here of Mr. McKinley.

MURDER INDEMNITY IS 500,000 POUNDS

Cairo, Nov. 24—Just 10 minutes before expiration of the time limit set in a British ultimatum the Egyptian government at 145 a. m. today paid Great Britain 500,000 pounds, proceeds as indemnity for the assassination of Sir Lee Stack.

The government, headed by Zaghlol Pashas then resigned.

[illegible] 500,000)) which severely taxed the Egyptian treasury, was made under the guns of a British warship, the Benbow which arrived at Alexandria this morning.

The check was accompanied by a brief note protesting that some of Britain's other demands, delivered by Lord Allenby Saturday night as a result of the fatal attack upon the Sirdar on Wednesday, were unjustifiable.

Accordingly British troops were ordered to occupy the customs house at Alexandria as "a first measure."

The ultimatum delivered by Lord Allenby contained seven demands and threatened appropriate measures if they were not complied with within 24 hours. This time limit expired and a new note was presented, demanding the payment of the indemnity [illegible]

One of Britain's supplementary demands was that 1,000 sterling ($5,000) be paid to a native police who was wounded while pursuing Lee Stock's assassins last [illegible] after the Sirdar had been shot. IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Much Interest Displayed In The Firemen's Football Game Here Thursday Afternoon

Considerable interest is being manifested in the Thanksgiving Day afternoon attraction when the married and single men of the Charleroi Volunteer Fire department will clash in a football contest here, the kickoff to be called at 3 o'clock.

The Single men claim that they will be the winners, while the married men strongly oppose them in this opinion. However, whatever the result may be the benedicts and the "bachelors" are practicing faithfully every day, and as there are mighty good players on both teams, the outcome of the contest can only be surmised, not foreseen.

The firemen say that the public, who will attend in large numbers according to present indications, will see a few stunts in Rugby that has not been displayed by any aggregation displaying gridiron talent on the local ball ground this year—and knowing the veracity of the firemen when they say they are "It," the public can take the statement in reference for granted.

The firemen are furthermore very desirous of a large crowd, for the proceeds are to go toward the annual Community Tree fund and they are anxious to give the local children as good if not better treatment than former years.

The lineup of the teams will appear in a succeeding issue of the Mail.

Remarkable Rise Of Willie Davies From Amateur To Stardom

Willie Davies, Charleroi's sensational flyweight, added another victory to his big list at Clarksburg, West Virginia, Friday night, stopping "Jimmy" Hughes, one of Pennsylvania's flyweight contenders in the tenth round of a 10-round bout at the Shaw Athletic club.

The mill, while it lasted, was one of the best ever seen in Clarksburg. Hughes went after Davis in the first few rounds, and it looked as though the little Charleroi favorite was in for a rough evening. However, Davies cut loose in the third round, and gave Hughes one of the worst lacings he has ever subjected to, and he barely managed to last out the round, the bell saving him from a knockout.

It was evident to the fans, who were expecting for a K. O., that Hughes was in bad shape and when Davies stepped in to him in the fourth round, it was only a question of how long Hughes could stand the terrific pace that Davies was setting. After a few fast exchange, Davies caught him with a left to the stomach and a right to the jaw, dropping him for the full count.

This, the fourth straight won for Davies, in Clarksburg, has made him a great favorite, and the Enraw club matcher some wellknown featherweight to meet him at their club on December 12.

Davies from the amateurs where he held the flyweight title for two years to be a ring star in the professionals, has in the short space of five months, been a remarkable achievement of that little Willie Davies, under the [illegible] of John Buchanan, Charleroi wellknown manager and promoter.

Davies has fought 11 bouts since turning professional, losing the first to Toronto, Can., and winning all the rest, scoring two knockouts among them. Among the best known Davies has met and beaten are Pete Roberts, Hanlon (twice), Allen Holmes [illegible] Joe Shuma, Tony Ter[illegible] Tommy Fello.

UNION IS FAVORED AS LEAGUE CHAMPION, SAYS LAMPE

William S. Lampe, in the Pittsburgh Post, this morning, says

"Outside of the W. P. I. A. L. decisions committee holding a secret meeting in the Fort Pitt Hotel and ruling out Jeannette and Norwin High schools and readmitting New Castle in the competition for the loop championship and the league officials themselves getting together later in the Fifth Avenue High school and expelling Norwin, Jeannette and Ben Avon for periods of one year each, the greatest and most unexpected change in the standing in the Syracuse cup race rises out of the Union Washington game in Turtle Creek.

"In the first place few scholastic fans other than those backing the winning team expected it to realize a victory over the Little Presidents who had previously lost but one game to another high school eleven in the six seasons.

"Among the other schools, New Castle remained idle. Charleroi defeated Monongahela City with apparent ease, Schenley won the city championship by practically outclassing Peabody, and Braddock met a strong team in Connellsville and proved itself a stronger one to stay in the running with Turtle Creek Union. With the single New Castle loss crossed from the records, only Schenley, the finest of thecity section, has the splatch of a defeat, by a non-league school in another state, to mar its claim on the right to participate in the probable semi-finals and finals in the trophy play. Union did the W. P. I. A. L. officials a good turn by eliminating Washington, last year's champions, for now on one will have to squabble over whether or not the setback by the Wash-Jeff Freshmen should count against Hank Day."

GREB SIGNS TO MEET BOB SAGE AT MOTOR SQUARE NEXT MONDAY

Living up to a verbal contract made last week after his bout with Jimmy Delaney, Harry Greb, middleweight champion, yesterday signed to meet Bob Sage, Detroit, light heavy, next week at Motor Square Garden. The signing of Sage was accomplished after a week's effort on the part of Matchmaker John J. Bell, who sought every leading middle, light heavy and heavyweight in the ring. When Greb offered to meet any opponent secured Manager Bell sought Jeff Smith, who was under contract to meet Gene Tunney in New Orleans on December 8 and was not permitted to box in the meantime. Augie Ratner, Jack Delaney, Charlie Weinert, Johnny Wilson, Bob Martin and others were made the offer, but all pleaded other engagements.

Billy Britton, Eddie Meade's sensational heavy Kansas, who had been going well in the east, was approached but his match with Sage last Thursday night in Detroit interfered. Here Bell agreed to take the winner. Sage's showing that night was a revelation to even his home town folks as he dropped Britton twice and showed to be one of the toughest big fellows in the game. Buoyed by his victory over Britton, Sage readily accepted the match with Greb and will be in Pittsburgh late this week to show his stuff.

BIG BATTLE IS ON AT THE GARDEN TONIGHT

The logical contender for a chance at Mickey Walker's welterweight crown will likely be developed tonight at Motor Square Garden, when Eddie Shevlin, the Boston boxing master, and Willie Harmon, the most sensational of recent sluggers, hook up tonight in their fifteround bout. With both on the scene yesterday, Pittsburgh fans had chance t oget line on their ability, and after watching them in brief workouts, it was figured that the youthful Jew boy from New York will be the best opposition the crafty Shevlin has been forced to meet.

While Shevlin will have a slight weight advantage as well as an edge on experience and generalship, Harmon, who last week defeated Paul Doyle, a boxer along the same line as Shevlin, looks as though his aggressiveness and punching power might carry him over the distance or end the thing prematurely.

Harmon is a fighter, makes no pretense at being anything else, and the rapidity with which he has rushed his way to the top may put a premium on the wallop tonight. Shevlin, a great Pittsburgh favorite, is one of the few combination boxer-fighters, and in his bouts in Pittsburgh with Jimmy Jones showed that he can stand up under rough going without losing his ring brain.

From all angles the bout looks like nothing but action as long as it lasts, as Shevlin is insistent that he is the logical opponent for Walker. Harmon, figuring he can shortcut his way to the title chance, said yesterday that his best defense is his slugging felt that the thing might not go as far as scheduled.

Manager John J. Bell, who is making the club's matches, will make an effort to bring Walker here to meet the winner before the close of the local season.

CALIFORNIA WINS SATURDAY OVER W. & J. FRESHMEN

California Normal defeated the Washington and Jefferson college freshmen 9 to 0 in the game played here Saturday afternoon, in a struggle which was well played for the most part and pleasing the fairly large crowd of spectators.

Recovery of a fumble by Channing back of the W. & J. goal line, while Norman was trying to kick, resulted in the only touchdown of the struggle. Later the Normalites got down well into the territory of the Vice Presidents who had relaxed following their hard struggle with the Panther yearlings, failed to show the form that had won them a tie with Kiski and almost victory or a tie with the Panther cubs.

Developing a real offense on one occasion, the Vice Presidents fought their way down into California Normal's territory, only to be held for downs. The summary:

the main gate and with a ticket already purchased, it makes it much easier to enter the park.

Let every loyal Charleroi rooter make it a point to attend The game as support will be needed. It is not known how the other towns in the valley will line up with thei rsupport but as a rule the underdog gets it. Donora has been defeated no less than four times this season, but in every case their defeat was administered by a strong team. Charleroi, on the other hand, starting the season with one veteran on the line, has worked its way through a difficult schedule with success. If Charleroi plays the brand of ball they played in the California game two weeks ago they will win lots of friends; if they play the brand that lost them the game with Donora last season, they will lose lots of them.

Practice sessions will be secret this week, and all plans as to the preparations which directly concerns the team will be withheld from the press for obvious reasons.

"Gothic Art"

The term Gothic was originally applied by the Italians to the pointed architecture which preceded the Renaissance, because the Italian artists regarded the new style as worthy only of the barbaric Goths. The erroneous idea that the style was Germanic became prevalent and the term Gothic was generally adopted.

Tests conducted by the bureau of chemistry show that gas produced from straw may be used successfully for lighting and heating and as motor fuel, but indicate that use of this material for the production of gas on the farm is not practicable.

Wife's Attitude

A wife's attitude is that a husband ought always to take her advice, and if it doesn't prove good she can have the pleasure of roasting him for not showing a little more will power to decide things for himself.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

UNION HIGH BEATS COUNTY SEAT HIGH

Washington High school was defeated by Union High school at Turtle Creek Saturday afternoon, 7 to 0 in a game that eliminated the Little Presidents as contenders for the championship of the W. P. I. A. L.

It was the third scholastic defeat handed the Little Presidents in nearly a decade during Hank Day's regime and was the first since the Wilkinsburg game at Forbes Field in 1922 when they were beaten, 7 to 6.

The Blue and Black players did not have their accustomed push and team work, and were outplayed in every department by Union athletes. Although each player tried his best, the drive and snap for which Washington has become famous was lacking.

PINCH AUCTIONEER TO BID AT SALE

New York Bowery Has an Unusual Sale.

New York.—A silent auction, where the bidders pinch the auctioneer and where transactions run to as high as $250,000 a day is one of the most unique markets on the Bowery.

It is here that three-fourths of the unredeemed pledges of pawnbrokers in the large Eastern cities are disposed of. Nothing is dealt in but jewelry, watches, antiques and such valuable articles as high-class field glasses.

Several buildings on the west side of the Bowery, between Hester and Canal streets, house the auction rooms and exchanges. The membership is exclusive. The personnel seldom varies, except as sons or nephews of the traders succeed to the business as the older men retire or die. Nearly all are wealthy.

Sales Are Held Daily.

Pawnbrokers bring their unredeemed pledges to the auction rooms where sales are held daily. A pawnbroker hands in for sale, for instance, a diamond ring and tells how much he wants for it—confidentially to the auctioneer. The auctioneer passes of speculators about him. He is seated in a chair on an elevation. When the article is returned, he asks for a bid.

The bidders express their arbitrations by pinching the anatomy of the auctioneer at various points from his ankle to his neck. When the bidding [illegible] hands. Each hand has its allotted place. The auctioneer knows [illegible] example, that the hand on his right knee is that of Morris Hirsch, the hand on the left knee is that of Jacob Rabinowitz, the hand grasping his left elbow is that of Hyman Cohan and so on. He feels a certain squeeze repeated in a certain way. That means Morris Hirsch has offered $200

Pay After Auction.

That may be the only squeeze the auctioneer gets on the article on display; or he may get a dozen others. He hands the article to the man whose last squeeze indicated the highest bid. A memorandum is made and another article offered. No cash is exchanged and settlements are made at the end of the auction.

Sales are made with bewildering speed. When the stock is disposed of, the buyers troop downstairs to the ground floor exchange rooms and get ready for business.

The dealers have little stalls in the main exchange where jewelry purchasers visit them. Little time is wasted in bargaining and business is usually brisk.

Of course you earn $100 per week. But how much do you get?

Look Through Walls and Floors With New X-Ray

Schenectady.—X-ray machines by means of which one may look through solid walls and floors as easily as a surgeon or dentist now examines subcutaneous parts of his patient's body have been perfected. The inventors are Dr. W. D. Coolidge and his associates in the research laboratory of the General Electric company here.

The new apparatus, confined in a box 7 by 8 by 10 inches and weighing only 30 pounds, is expected to prove of great value, especially to plumbers, building contractors, electricians and jewelers. To use the device it will only be necessary to connect an ordinary extension cord to the nearest lamp socket or base plug of the household lighting system.

Hereafter, the inventors say, the man who wishes to hang a picture on the wall and doesn't know where to find a solid place to drive a nail will not have to ruin the wall before finding the right spot. The new machine may also prove a nemesis to smugglers. By shooting the rays through precious stones the jewelers would easily be able to determine the genuineness of any jewel.

Has Many Motors

Des Moines, Iowa.—Iowa has added to its "corn and hog" fame, but rather [illegible] with the announcement of the state automobile department that on an average 97 counties have more automobiles than families. The department based the statement on a communication from a magazine's survey of the state.

Propose to Study Writings on Rocks

Virginia City, Nev.—Weird rock writings in caves ten miles northeast of here are to be studied with a view to determining whether they are the work of Indians, as heretofore supposed, or of ancient Chinese.

Gee Ding, Chinese student at the University of Nevada, made a visit to the caves recently and expressed belief that the writings are Chinese and depict a story of ancient Buddhist priests, an attempt to circumnavigate the globe and of the landing on this continent.

It is legend in China, according to Gee Ding, that long ago perhaps thousands of years back, five ships under command of Buddhist priests set sail and never returned. Gee Ding believes it may be possible the writings were made by these people.

A widow has one big advantage over other women—she can give references.

Today and Yesterday

FEW youngsters to-day ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, radios, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than [illegible] wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavedom. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it

A TIMELY UTTERANCE.

One of the best of the recent utterances of public men comes from Attorney General Stone. In an address at Columbia University on November 17 he said:

"We made a prodigous number of laws. In enacting them we disregard the principles of draftsmanship and leave in uncertainty their true meaning and effect. More and more we take over into the field of positive lay that sphere of human action which has been hitherto untrammeled by legal restrictions without thought of the extent to which a wise human policy may leave some phases of human activity to the control of moral sanctions or to the restraints of the community sense of what is right conduct."

This passion for "a prodigious number of laws" too often uncertain "in their true meaning and effect," this invasion of the field formerly left to religious teachers and the corrective of public opinion has gone so far that it has literally gone to the head of some of the untiring reformers, as in the case of the Ohio legislator who introduced a bill to regulate the temperature so that it would never go below 58 degrees in winter or above 78 degrees in summer. And when, as Attorney General Stone says, "we build up our administrative machinery with ever-increasing powers and authority in administrative offices at the expense of individual liberty and freedom of the citizen," what is the result? Inevitably law begins to be brought into contempt and to be cynically flouted. It is late in the march of events to preach reduction of the swollen Federal power, decentralization, home rule and personal liberty—a return toward the principles of Thomas Jefferson, which made this country what it is, or was—but Attorney General Stone responds to urgent need when he does so.

Honor to Dead Soldier

The War department says when a soldier is buried the following is the procedure: The body is lowered into the grave as the priest or minister reads a short service. Usually music is played or a hymn is sung. A bugle then sounds taps, after which a firing squad fires three rounds over the grave. The guns are pointed upward, in no particular direction. After the funeral party leaves the cemetery the cemeterial help closes the grave.

Ancient Pennies

A silver penny struck during the reign of Ethelred II., the Unready, 979-1016, at Sudbury, England, where at that time there was a royal mint, has been presented to the borough by the town clerk. It passed into his possession several years ago, and he has ascertained on high authority that it is genuine. The coin has been deposited in the borough technical institute.

Money in Unsealed Packets

The implicit faith of the public in the honesty of the post office is shown by the huge sums of money sent through this channel. One ordinary business letter, not stuck down, was found recently to contain a negotiable check for half a million. Frequently banks, and even private people, send unsealed letters with checks running into four and even five figures.

Wood From Cobs

A good substitute for wood is said to have been made from corn cobs. The cobs are ground into a pulp, mixed with a substance that binds the product together and compacted by powerful hydraulic pressure. When the process is finished, it is said the wood is so hard that it can be whittled, shaved or turned in a lathe without danger of chipping.

Wireless Telegraphy

Marconi first succeeded in telegraphing certain signals across the Atlantic in 1901 and the first complete message was sent in 1903. Transoceanic telephony was first accomplished in 1915, when speech was transmitted from Washington to Paris and to Honolulu, the latter distance being almost 5,000 miles.

Well to Let Him Swim By

One of the largest animals that ever lived has left a record of his size in the phosphate beds about South Carolina in the form of large teeth. The sharks which possessed these teeth must have been 80 or 90 feet in length if we may judge by comparison with present day sharks and their teeth.

From the Sanskrit

"Avatar" comes from a Sanskrit word meaning a "descent." It is applied particularly to the descent of a god from deity to earth in a manifest form, either for beneficent or retributive purposes. It corresponds to the [illegible]

THE OFFICE CAT

"Save the surface and you save all" is a famous slogan that could well be applied to the average flapper.

Drunk—Let's go out and have a party.

Temperate One—I am sorry, but I have a case of dyspepsia.

Drunk—S'll right, bring it along, I'll drink anything.

What is it mould the life of man?
The weather.
What makes some black and others tan?
The weather.
What makes the Zulu live in trees,
And Congo natives live in trees,
While others go in furs and freeze?
The weather.

Correct this sentence: My wife doesn't mind in the least, said the fond husband, when I go out in the evening and stay out all night playing poker.

It takes money to make the mare go, but all a dark horse asks is a split in the party.

A very young doctor, opening a brand-new surgery, waited all day without a visitor until at last a breathless man came running up the drive.

"Sit down," said the young doctor, soothingly. "What can I do for you?"

"I must get on the telephone—at once" gasped the visitor. "My wife's ill, and I want to ring up my doctor."

Prexy—Let me try on that suit in the window, my good man.

Ken—Sorry, sir, but you'll have to use the dressing room.

Fame is a fickle thing. The man who raises 5-foot cornstalks soon has to give up page one to the mail carrier that makes his entire route despite the worst snow storm of the year.

We need one more law: A law to make people obey laws.

No Time to Waste.

Nurse (announcing arrival of son and heir)—It's a boy, sir.

Engrossed Professor—Ask him what he wants, I'm busy.

Willie, asked the teacher, what is the plural of man?

Men, answered the small pupil.

And the plural of child?

Twins, was the prompt reply.

Society women always had to put up a good front to the world, and now the styles of gowns make them put up an extra good back.

The photograph of the slain husband always makes one wonder how the wife could have been jealous.

The music house wishing to put out a suitable slogan to help liven the sale of saxaphones might use this, "Ask the Man Who Moans One."

Man has so thoroughly conquered the air that he can do anything up there if he has luck and nothing happens.

What people want to know is not "Will it kill the odor of onions?." It is, "How about the odor of bootleg?"

Bessie.

Now Bessie cannot dance or pet,
But she is worth a second look,
For when I'm hunghy you can bet,
I'll call on her, 'cause she can cook.

Keeping Air Moist

In homes heated by hot air furnaces, with registers in the floor, it is a good plan to keep cans of water hung in the register. Any handy person can make holes in a tin can in which to fasten a wire bale, and this can be hung on a narrow strip of wood laid across the furnace pipe, just below the floor level. A two-quart can will require filling twice a week. This will not only prevent the furniture from drying out, but is an aid to the health of the family, as it keeps the air moist.

Treasure Awaits Finder

Few people know that buried somewhere close to the quaint old French city of Avignon there are now a number of priceless crosses encrusted with jewels and a great store of French, English and Austrian gold coins, all rightfully the property of the popes, and lost since the Fourteenth century. This treasure, it appears, was hidden during the reign of Pope Innocent VII, when, by order of Philip IV, the seat of the papacy was removed to France.

Expressed Nation's Faith

"In God we trust" first appeared on coins of this country in 1864. S. P. Chase, secretary of the treasury, addressed a letter to the director of the mint at Philadelphia stating that our coinage should bear a motto expressing in the fewest words that no nation can be strong except in the strength of God. This particular motto was finally decided upon. It first appeared upon a two-cent piece.

Tracing Bird Migration

A common tern banded in Maine has been reported found as far away as the mouth of the Niger river on the west coast of Africa. It is possible that the Caspian tern may likewise migrate to the eastern hemisphere, although so far no indications to this effect are to be found in the returns received from birds banded at the Lake Michigan colony.

America's "Great Divide"

The name "Great Divide" given to the snowy range of the Rocky mountains forming the water parting between the valleys of the eastern and western parts of the United States. It runs in a zig-zag line from northwestern Montana through Idaho and Colorado and ends in southwestern New Mexico near the Arizona border.

Hard, but Worth While

"Heaven," says the old-fashioned saw, "is an income of a dollar and an outlay of ninety cents, while hell is an income of a dollar and an outgo of a dollar ten." The creation of even a small surplus is the simplest thing in the world to plan and the hardest thing in the world for most people to carry out.

Facts About Tuberculosis

The National Tuberculosis association says that tuberculosis is not hereditary, and it is practically never handed on from parents to a child before birth. Infection usually comes from tuberculous parents or relatives who, by careless habits, infect the healthy child shortly after birth.

Dinner on the Fly

As an aid in feeding young fish, the experiment has been successfully tried of hanging electric lights over the water in fish hatcheries. The swarms of insects attracted by the lights fall into the hatching tubs or are snapped out of the air by the jumping fish.

Cylinders Denote Wealth

In Burma there is a peculiar way of judging a man's wealth. A rich man owns a large number of cylinders, a poor man is he who has none, no matter what actual stock or other vast possessions he may have. They also use small cannon for currency.

Powerful Tidal Current

The swiftest tidal current in the world is that between the islands of Jura and Scarba, off the Scottish coast. According to the official charts the speed of the current here is nearly 11 miles an hour.

Japan's Former Isolation

Japan was practically isolated from the rest of the world until the American expedition under Perry, in 1853, opened it up to trade. In March, 1854, the United States made a commercial treaty with it.

Made First "Gas Engine"

In 1678 the Abbe d'Hautenfenille invented an engine for employing the explosive power of gunpowder to drive a piston working in a cylinder. This was the prototype of the modern gas engine.

Couldn't Smell an' Hear, Too

"I always get punished for my sins," remarked a woman to her neighbor the other day. "Twice I've listened in on our party line and let a cake burn on the bottom."—Exchange.

Lots of It That Kind

The principal object of this meeting will be to elect officers for the coming year and to formulate plans for an entertainment, the young people of the adjoining towns to be invited. There will also be a number of new members [illegible] time. A social hour will follow the business session during which time refreshments will be served by the hostesses.

One Mother's Tribute to Daughter-in-Law

When I first saw my son Tyler's angelic manner under his wife's regime I held my breath, because in the old days Tyler in a beatific state of mind meant Tyler getting ready to break out in a new place.

But as time goes on and the serenity remains unbroken, I repeat to myself that perfect line from the "Just So Stories"—"Not always was the Kangaroo as now we behold him"—a text that I recommended to all mothers who have seen their brisk sons neatly trained by well-selected wives.

Indeed, the longer I live the more ready I am to believe that a young man's wife may be better acquainted with his actual current present day self than his mother can possibly be. My daughter-in-law sees in her husband a forceful man of affairs on whose judgment she implicitly relies. I respect his judgment, too, in a way, but I cannot help knowing that he is the same Tyler who, at the age of four, howled himself into a high fever one day because I would not let him lead a bloodhound in the parade when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" came to town.

Mothers view their sons with what psychologists might call an "associative fringe." We are handicapped by assorted memories. We cannot estimate our sons exactly as their wives estimate them. They came upon us at a different stage.—"A Maternal Philosopher" in the Atlantic Monthly.

Observation Relieved Monotony of Illness

It has often been my feeling that perhaps the happiest man is the healthy bookworm who, by laying out a quarter for a second-hand volume, can get as much pleasure in a week as the other fellow, more dependent upon expensive entertainments and indulgencies that draw on his wad. The former is among that happy class that can say with the poet, "My mind to me a kingdom is; such pleasant joys therein I find."

But I discovered his equal the other day when visiting a sick friend in Outremont whose house adjoins a vacant lot, says the Montreal Herald. I found him sitting comfortably on the veranda overlooking that lot and studying it through a pair of field glasses.

He asked me: "How many kinds of plants would you suppose there is in that field?"

"About half a dozen," I replied.

"I have already found 77," he assured me, and went on to name them. Confinement to a veranda did not worry him much.

Man's Feathered Friends

Birds are closely allied to the British farmer, shepherd and sportsman and those who are wise in bird lore, rely on their feathered friends for information and warning. The wryneck is the woodman's bird, its hawklike cry in April giving the signal for the stripping of oak trees' bark. The yellow wagtail is a farmer's bird, ushering in the time of spring sowings. As the sandpiper is the angler's companion, the wheatear keeps the shepherd company on lonely downs. Even the miller has his bird in the redwing, called "windmill thrush," since the working of its wings suggests the revolving of a windmill's sails, while it is supposed to seek shelter by windmills in hard weather. Redwings now arrive in force; the pity is that few windmills are left to keep up the traditional association.—London Mail.

Expert Shingle Weavers

In spite of the multiplication of efficient machines to lighten and simplify labor, shingles are still woven (or packed) by hand. No machinery has yet been invented capable of eliminating the expert shingle weaver. Examine a bunch of shingles as the carpenter takes them apart for shingling the roof, and you will see the unique process by which the compact bunch has been woven. Now a wide shingle, now a narow one, makes the bunch the exact width, and all day long the weaver stands and seizes shingle after shingle thrown out from the sawing machine, and without any false moves weaves them into compact bunches. The term shingle-weaver has been extended by custom, till it now applies to anyone who works in any department of a shingle mill.

SMOKERS BLAMED FOR FIRE INCREASE

Officials Find Carelessness Doubled Forest Blazes.

Olympia, Wash.—In one respect the destruction wrought by forest fires in 1924 is worse than the murky summer of 1922, when the landscape was obscured weeks at a time by a pall of smoke. The regrettable feature of this season's record is the increased number of fires caused by the careless disposal of lighted cigars and cigarettes. To date this year the state supervisor of forestry has recorded 730 fires. A total of 102,003 acres have been burned over. Nearly one-third of this area lies in a single county.

Careless smokers caused 105 fires this season, against 73 last year. This year 86 fires had their beginnings in camps, while last season campers and tourists were held responsible for 98. Lightning started 32 forest fires this summer, while last year only one fire was attributed to that cause.

The state was better protected this summer and hundreds of fires were checked before serious damage resulted. Next year a better supervision is planned.

[illegible] markable for its low humidity record. Easterly winds have dried the forest floors into favorable combustibles. The number of tourists, campers, fishermen and holiday picnickers was twice as large this summer as formerly.

The campaign of education which this season aided in keeping down the fire losses will be continued.

Negro, Old and Blind, Still Is Capable Guide

Washington.—A piece of kindling and tobacco chewing brought John Wesley Matthews—very black—into prominence in the western shore district of Maryland.

The fragment of wood, flying from the blade of an ax, cost his sight, and a penchant for chewing tobacco in class resulted in his withdrawal—by request—from a trade school for the blind.

Thus, balked in his effort to acquire a new means of livelihood, Wes returned to the only thing he knew, the water, and in the more than thirty years that have elapsed, the "Blind Man," as he is known all along the upper Chesapeake and its tributaries, has become a source of wonderment for his uncanny skill in piloting fishing parties to the most fruitful grounds for the sport.

Day after day the little old negro, in nondescript garb, is out on a flat-bottomed skiff, his most prized possession, with a group of anglers in tow. He also transports hunters out to duck blinds that dot the waters in that vicinity.

because the British note of Saturday bitterly criticized the Egyptian government's laxity towards extremist demonstrations and the arousing of anti-British passions such as led to the murder of Stack.

The government remained in office just long enough to meet the most pressing of the British demands. Two of these were met—the indemnity, which probably will be divided between Sir Lee's family and Benevolent institutions in the Soudan, was paid, and an apology was tendered.

But the situation is far from easy for the Egyptian government refused to accept responsibility for the murder and protested that some of Britain's other demands, having to do with withdrawal of Egyptian officers and troops from the Soudan, were unjustified.

Many a man keeps himself poor in a struggle to make himself rich.

GOD AND OUR COUNTRY

The Junior Order, United American Mechanics, and the Daughters of America of Monessen, attended church Sunday night at the United Brethren church, Monessen. There was a large attendance. The speaker was the Rev. L. C. Ross, who addressed the orders on the line or subject of God and Our Country."

The address of the divine was appreciated by those present, and credit is due the Rev. Ross for the good he stands for, and is doing in and around Monessen. W. R. Hill R. S.

KURTZMANN
THE PIANO THAT ENDURES

REFINEMENT is the rule of the ages Just as the simple yet pure forms of Greek and Roman architecture burst into new glories in the architecture of the Renaissance, so has the faithful workmanship of the Kurtzmann Pianos of four generations ago steadily lead to the magnificent Kurtzmanns of today.

A better home deserves a better piano. Isn't it time you know the exchange value of your present piano when traded in on a genuine Kurtzmann? Such values are often surprising, and when you obtain a Kurtzmann Player Piano or a Kurtzmann Baby Grand you are always glad you made the change.

Let us tell you why.
